About the Seminar:

Human Rights, especially after the Universal Declaration of Human Rights, have come to occupy a pivotal place in international and national policy considerations. However, despite the increased focus on Human Rights, the reality of the day is there are too many violations. Though there is stringent enforcement of laws, collective efforts by the governments, the active participation of media and the Human Rights agencies, the Human Rights scenario world over is posed with various challenges because for a larger section of the society, Human Rights are still at a nascent stage. In this backdrop, the importance of Human Rights Education acquires increased importance; it assumes potential significance in transforming Human Rights issues into reality.

Objective of the Seminar

This Seminar has been set up to spread human rights literacy and sensitizes people belonging to various sections of society on all aspects relating to Human rights. Sensitization is most effective when done in the formative years of the youth. With this very objective in mind this program is specially designed to target the youth especially, the students in the universities/colleges to build a society aware of Human Rights issues. All people are entitled to the advantages resulting from the three UN pillars of Peace, Human Rights, and Development. Everyone has the right to live in a peaceful environment where all human rights are upheld and protected and progress is fulfilled to its full potential. Human rights are essential for achieving sustainable development that leaves no one behind and are central to all its three dimensions – Social, Environmental, and Economic.

There are also issues relating to the Rights of special category of people who, for various reasons have been deprived of their rights and hence need extra protection. These are the people belonging to SC/ST and other backward classes besides those to with disabilities or mentally ill persons. Rights of the women and children need special protection and hence, the need for sensitization of public regarding the need of special groups.
