

A report on Tech Kaushalya 2024

The Department of Computer Science, Gujarat University organized the state level amalgamation of Technical and nontechnical competitions under the name "Tech Kaushalya "on February 15th and 16th, 2024. The fest featured a wide array of tech events like Code Swap, Code Complete, Web Jam, Cyber Scenario, Techno Quiz, Query Cracker, and Data Insight. Sports like cricket, football and e-sports like Valorant and BGMI, were also held as part of competition.

These events served as platforms for participants to explore various areas of interest and enhance their skills, contributing to their overall development.

This year's Tech Kaushalya welcomed distinguished guests: Dr. Savita, the Dean of Computer Application and Information Technology at GLS University; Mr. Himank, a DevOps engineer at Ciena and former GDSC lead, and Dr. Chirag Thaker, professor and head of the Computer Engineering department at LD College of Engineering Ahmedabad, who graced the occasion with their expertise and knowledge.

The event featured dynamic cultural performances by department students, including dances and the skit "Just a Khawab" which captivated the audience. Cash prizes, certificates and trophies were awarded to all winners, recognizing their talent, dedication, and achievements.
